A Simple and Easy Way to Give

A beneficiary designation gift is a simple and affordable way to provide for your family and make a big difference for PCRF.

It’s easy to designate beneficiaries for retirement assets, investments, banking accounts, and life insurance by completing a simple form. You can name the Pediatric Cancer Research Foundation as a full or partial beneficiary. You can also name us as a primary or contingent beneficiary.

Advantages of Beneficiary Designation Gifts

- Easy to Do - Simply fill out a brief beneficiary designation form provided by the plan or account administrator. (Legal name: Pediatric Cancer Research Foundation | Tax ID: 95-3772528)

- Avoid Probate - Gifting assets via a beneficiary designation will avoid the probate process, thus saving estate administration expenses.

- Tax Savings - The Tax cuts and Job Act of 2017 eliminated the threat of estate taxes for most people, at least until 2025. However, retirement plans will still be subject to income taxes.

- Inexpensive - In most cases, there is no need to amend your will or trust, thus saving legal fees.
